Connect Across Air Sports: WAG Evaluation Workshop April 2016

WAG: Visionary Quotes

- All felt the excitement of the airports family together: We (FAI), Host spectators, sports people, media
- Something has always happened for the public (spectators and media) and it was well orchestrated including live scoring
- Yes we can, and we did well
- WAG is a stand alone event supported by a catalogue of special events, which captures the essence of air sports defined by cooperation with the ASCs, who are immediately consulted and challenged
- WAG is a productive professional event meeting customer needs, organized in different fields, using assessments that fit, working tools, and side shows (i.e. simulators) for public involvement
- The WAG is built on a foundation in which commissions are consulted and management teams identified. Afterwards potential bidders are consulted with concrete catalogues etc.
- Before you bid, you have to know what you are bidding for
- The WAG is properly and centrally managed by qualified people, commanded and controlled with transparent communication
- Visual dynamic professional event
- It was a paradise variation of Disneyland, everybody was having fun
- Fresh wind of realism
- I would do it again, because it was well coordinated
- Do you want to do this again?

FAI Air Sports in Asia Summit

Hong Kong, 20 March 2017

- Air sports developing fast
- Summit focusses on NACs and regional Air Sports Organisations
- With national and regional focus in Asia
- Looking forward to Asian Games 2018 under OCA

Dear FAI Members and air sports organisations in Asia,

Air sports are developing at a fast pace in Asia, and we are delighted to see the increasing number of events across all air sports.

This invitation is directed to all national air sport controls in the countries in Asia, as well as emerging air sports organisations with a national and regional focus in Asia.

It is important to organize the growth of air sports well and on a sustainable basis. We therefore invite all air sports organisations in Asia - national and regional as mentioned above - to join the

on 20 March 2017 in Hong Kong.

Please save the date.

The summit is preceded by the meeting of the FAI Ballooning Commission on 17/18 March and the AFA Executive Board meeting on 19 March. We wish to thank our FAI Member of Hong Kong to support these events and the summit.

Proposed Agenda:

1. Welcome and introduction round
2. Governance and development of Air Sports globally and in Asia
3. Sanctioning processes for regional and international events (e.g. World/Continental Championships, Category 2 events) and the role of the NACs and the FAI Air Sports Commissions
4. Eligibility of events and competitors for FAI World Ranking Lists
5. Participation and organisation of Paragliding in Asian Games 2018 and further multi sports events in Asia
6. Any other business
