

CIMA Annual Report 2012 for Switzerland

The actual situation considering Microlight in Switzerland is quite calm and nearly unchanged comparing with last year. There is still a small group of 3-axe planes and pilots but the number of microlights is not growing.

Currently in Switzerland there are two legal interventions on approval of trikes and gyros.

At the same time our Authorities are also discussing technical and legal regulations for electrical powered micro lights like hangglider, paraglider, trikes etc.

Our Association will observe all these matters with interest and hope to get acceptable solutions in the near future.

A good news is that our Military Authorities decided to use also microlight planes (like Remos) to instruct pilot aspirants.
